

Engaging Emergence – workshop with Peggy Holman in Sweden

---

What does it take to see opportunities where others see problems? How do you bring people together to pursue possibilities when faced with upheaval?

As our organizations, communities, and other social systems experience increased uncertainty, a framework for engaging with disruptive change and the unknown becomes key to meeting today's challenges. Based on the recently published, Engaging Emergence: Turning Upheaval into Opportunity, learn theory, principles, and hands-on practices for engaging with change in complex situations that involves the people of a system in uncovering and pursuing their own answers.

Photo by Kris Krug

This interactive workshop employs a series of conversations using a variety of conversational practices to explore a pattern, practices, and principles for working with transformative change. It is for those who wish to understand more about change in organizations, communities, or other social systems, such as health care or education.

Peggy Holman won the Nautilus Book Award for Conscious Business/Leadership. Read more about Peggy Holman at www.peggyholman.com.

Date: August 24 – 25, 2011, Wednesday at 10:00 (coffee at 09:30) – 18:00, Thursday 09:00 - 17:00

Place: Stadsbiblioteket, Odengatan 63, Stockholm, Sweden

For who: Management consultants, Open Space facilitators, leaders, CEO

Registration fee: 5 500 SEK + VAT 25%, including 2 lunches, coffee/tea

How to get there: Train to Stockholm Central Station or flight to Stockholm/Arlanda or Stockholm/Skavsta

Accommodation: A suggestion for accommodation is Hostel/hotel STF

Fridhemsplan phone +46 8 653 88 00. Ranging from 325 SEK (sharing) and up

Information and register: Ulrika Eklund, e-mail: ulrika.eklund@telia.com, mobile: +46 70 699 86 12 or Pernilla Luttröpp e-mail: pluttropp@swipnet.se

mobile: +46 70 845 67 05

---

Register today!

---